

Chandramouli Vittal
Harrison, NJ 07102
cv267@njit.edu

August 14th, 2023

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Software Developer role. With three years of experience in a billion-dollar annual revenue, India-based MNC, Zoho Corporation, I am excited about the opportunity to showcase my efficient development skills, strategic mindset, and dynamic teamwork in your esteemed organization.

From my first internship at Zoho Corporation, I have been committed to actively learning from every experience. I have observed the difference between theoretical knowledge and practical knowledge and have equipped myself with a plethora of technologies. I started to understand what it takes to succeed in this field, which eventually helped me secure a full-time position at Zoho Corporation itself.

Shortly after starting as a full-stack developer, I began developing in the production environment of our product (a video conferencing application), which involves working on multiple servers. I gained hands-on experience in coding under the direction of a team, collaborating on software projects, databases, testing systems, and applications. I was involved in proposing intricate changes to the existing architecture to accommodate the HTTP Live Streaming service on our main application server. I spearheaded the development of a feature to simplify the process of deploying our services on AWS EC2, which in turn reduces latency for end users. I trained interns and helped them navigate the codebase, debug, and provided advice on production bug fixes. Working in a mentor role taught me many important lessons, but it also helped me realize that my true passion lies in creating software.

Thank you for taking the time to review my application. I look forward to speaking with you and learning more about this position. I am eager to contribute to your continued success. I know I have a lot to offer, and I would love to show you what I can bring to the team.

Sincerely,
Chandramouli Vittal